INVESTING IN CHILDREN IS NEVER WASTED!

The AG Kidmin team passionately believes that prioritizing children is the wisest investment of resources that any church can make. It's often said that a church without children is a dying church. We exist to strengthen churches by offering training and developing resources that ensure effective ministry to children, aligning those resources to leadership, discipleship, and missions.

Sticky Lessons Learning That Lasts

Some people say that people remember:

- 80% of what they SEE and DO
- 50% of what they READ
- 10% of what they HEAR

Action Steps

1. Involve every student. After determining the main objective, ask yourself, "What activity or game can every student be involved in that is fun, will engage their emotions, and can easily be related to you feel about...?"
2. Ask intentional questions. This is the most important part! This is where the meaning really takes place for students. (e.g., "How did you feel about...?")
3. Make the connection. End with a connecting question or statement. "How is this experience like our Scripture/lesson today?" But make sure you have clearly communicated the connection, so it is very easy for students to understand.

#4 Use Object Lessons

Sometimes helping students to understand spiritual truths can be challenging, especially when it is an abstract concept. Object lessons can take an abstract biblical truth and turn it into something concrete and easy to understand. It's a form of teaching in which the teacher uses an everyday item to illustrate another truth. When you are speaking, students are creating images in their brain of what you are talking about. There can be different based on their life experiences. When you show them what you are talking about, they all have a shared context.

A simple, everyday object can create a lesson experience that is profound and deeply meaningful. Later when students see the object outside of class, it becomes a reminder of the truth you taught and creates another layer of influence for your lessons.

Action Steps

1. Practice the object lesson before presenting it to your class! Nothing is worse than fumbling with the object when you are trying to bring home a truth.
2. Plan alternate endings. How will you illustrate the Bible story if the object lesson doesn't work or if a kid says the opposite of the answer you expected? Don't let your lesson be a bust!
3. Describe the object and show what it is or does. If it is a familiar object to your students, let them describe it.
4. Let your students handle the object, if possible. The more of their senses they use during the lesson, the bigger the impact and the more they will remember.
5. Verbally communicate the connection from the object to the main objective so that it is very clear for the students to understand.

Research online for some fantastic object lesson ideas!
